

Boy Scout Camping Checklist

The Scout Outdoor Essentials

They're called "essentials" for a reason. Every packing list starts with these 10 items.

1. Your Scout Book/Pen. Your Scout Book has a wealth of knowledge about the outdoors. Campouts are a great place to learn and demonstrate skills and get signoffs.
2. A sleeping bag and sleep mattress. Sometimes referred to as a sleep system, a sleeping bag and sleep mattress (foam or air) are necessary for sleeping in the woods... and in camp cabins. Depending on the weather a winter cap, warm socks and a pillow will help keep you warm at night.
3. Appropriate footwear is important. What is the weather going to be like? What time of year is it? Winter campouts require winter boots; spring campouts are muddy. Is there a hike planned? Make sure you have shoes that are good for hiking. We like to go on hikes.
4. A pocketknife or multitool can be handy in a wide variety of situations. It's useful for tasks as large as building an emergency shelter or lighting a campfire with poor fuel, or as small as repairing a damaged backpack. Keep you knife sharp and clean, and don't forget to first earn your Whittling Chip (for older Cub Scouts) or Totin' Chip (for Boy Scouts).
5. A first-aid kit can be a lifesaver. Literally. A few items will allow you to treat scratches, blisters and other minor injuries. They should also allow you to provide initial care while waiting for help for more serious injuries.
6. Bring extra clothing to match the weather. Multiple layers are better than a single massive jacket, because layered clothing is adaptable to a wide range of temperatures.
7. Rain gear is very important. Rain can come in a hurry, and getting your clothes drenched is more than just uncomfortable, it can lead to hypothermia, a potentially fatal condition.
8. A flashlight, headlamp or a rugged penlight is important for finding your way in the dark. Bring extra batteries, too.
9. Trail food is good for maintaining your energy. Bring more than you think you'll need in case you get stuck (or lost) in the woods.
10. Water can prevent dehydration, heat exhaustion and heatstroke. Use a lightweight, unbreakable container with a secure lid. (Labeled Smart Water Bottle works well)
11. Matches and/or a fire starter may be used to light fires for heat, or for signaling for help. Store matches or lighters in resealable plastic bags.
12. Sun protection might include sunblock, sunglasses, lip balm and a wide-brimmed hat.
13. A map and compass are probably the most important tools you can carry in case you get lost.
